COMMENTS ON STATEMENT OF REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

MAIL STOP: ISSUE FEE
Commissioner for Patents
P.O. Box 1450
Alexandria, VA 22313-1450

Dear Sir:

Responsive to the Examiner's Statement for the Reasons for allowance, Applicants note that they do not acquiesce to the Examiner's characterization of claim 16 and the interpretation of the term "center" to the extent that it incorporates or further limits the interpretation of this term. As one example, the Examiner states that "comparing a first distance from the center of an n-dimensional space having a center (i.e., a generally spherical form) to the samples phoneme...." Where the Examiner's interpretation narrows the scope of the claim (i.e., from generally an n-dimensional space to a generally spherical form), Applicants to not concede this interpretation.

Notably, in the prosecution of this case, Applicants argued with respect to claim 16 that there is insufficient motivation or suggestion to combine Smith et al. with Casey and further that there insufficient motivation or suggestion to combine Cooper with Smith et al. Casey teaches away from any combination with a speech-based reference and the teachings of either Smith et al. or Cooper would have to be fundamentally changed for those references to be combined. Therefore, rather than acquiesce to a narrowed interpretation of claim 16,

Application/Control Number: 09/998,959
Art Unit: 2655

Docket No.: 2000-0606

Applicants would submit that their arguments regarding the lack of motivation to combine are the acceptable reason for the allowance of claim 16, rather than a narrowing interpretation of any particular claim limitation in this claim.

Respectfully submitted,

Date: December 19, 2005
